

Costs Associated With Allied Health Technology

The purpose of the Allied Health Technology Program is to introduce students to the practice of medicine in an actual health care facility and to instruct pupils in the skills necessary to become productive citizens and health care workers within the community. Also, it is a goal to promote and to encourage post high school education and life long learning.

During this school year, the students will experience an exciting adventure in health care. They will be working in several different departments of the hospital in addition to studying theories and learning basic patient care skills in the classroom. During this experience, the student will have discussions about career choices, hands-on experience, and an in-depth look at a wide range of opportunities.

Allied Health students are required to wear green scrubs, closed-toe shoes, and a wristwatch with a second hand, along with their identification badge.

A physical exam, negative two-step tuberculosis skin test or TB blood test, proof of Hepatitis B vaccination, and a cleared criminal record check must be obtained prior to entrance into the program. A seasonal flu shot will be required in the Fall when the vaccine is available. Students must provide their own transportation to and from the hospital.

Prior to entrance into the Allied Health program, the student must have the following:

Physical exam, including TB testing and proof of Hepatitis B vaccination (see form)
Seasonal flu vaccination
Hepatitis B Vaccination Declination Form (if applicable)
Criminal Record Check (see form)

ADDITIONAL EXPENSES:

1. Green scrubs (must be purchased through NMTCC)
2. Wristwatch with second hand
3. Closed-toe shoes (no sandals)
4. Workbook (purchased through NMTCC at estimated cost of $40-$60)
5. Stethoscope
6. Black pens
7. Small pocket memo book
8. Daily Planner